

Please Join Us For

AITAF's Annual Veterans Day Performance

Monologues and Music on Broadway in honor of the US Armed Forces

Featuring Francois Battiste (Person of Interest, The Good Wife), Marylouise Burke (Sideways, Hung), Adam Driver (Girls, Lincoln), Lena Dunham (Girls, Tiny Furniture), Jesse J. Perez (American Splendor, Jedermann), Amy Ryan (The Office, Gone Baby Gone), David Schwimmer (Friends, The Iceman), Michael Shannon (Man of Steel, Boardwalk Empire), Joanne Tucker (Gayby, Listen Up Philip) and many more

November 11th, 2013, 7pm
American Airlines Theatre
227 West 42nd Street
New York, NY

TICKETS

FREE for Active Duty Service Members, Veterans and their families
$25 for Civilians

EMAIL

contact@aitaf.org for tickets and more info

"AITAF quite literally bridges the gap between America's civilian, artistic, and military communities by bringing members from each together under the same roof to remind each other what we all have in common: our humanity and the capacity to share and appreciate our lives through storytelling."
- SUSAN SARANDON, Actress

"AITAF lets civilians and soldiers find each other and share their feelings through performance."
- ERIC BOGOSIAN, Playwright, Actor & Novelist

For more information please visit www.aitaf.org